How do we know certain details about our network hospitals?

Our credentialing department verifies certain information about a hospital before a hospital becomes a part of our provider network. The following information is collected on a hospital's application to join our network and confirmed during our initial credentialing process. At least every three years, our providers, including hospitals, are "re-credentialed," meaning we re-validate the information, checking to make sure it remains accurate. We also update the information within 30 days if a facility notifies us of a change. We make this information available to you so you have access to detailed information about the facilities in the Peoples Health provider network.

HOSPITAL QUALITY DATA AND HOSPITAL ACCREDITATION STATUS

Most of the hospitals in our network are accredited by The Joint Commission. Accreditation is the formal review process for verifying that an organization meets a certain set of standards representing industry best practices. The Joint Commission has accredited hospitals for more than 60 years, and approximately 90 percent of the nation's accredited hospitals are accredited by it. Click the Accreditation link to view the hospital's quality record and accreditation status.
